Operational & Threat Update

The Commissioner of the RCMP provided a situational update.

On the situation in the outskirts of Ottawa, the Commissioner reported that protesters in Vankleek Hill have moved to a new location on private property in that area. There are approximately 60 vehicles and 20 tractor trailers, with the numbers slowly declining. In Arnprior, there are about 15 passenger vehicles as well as a small number of campers and other vehicles. As of this morning, a small number of motor vehicles remained in Embrun. Police continue to monitor these areas closely and there is a law enforcement plan in place to deal with any attempts by protesters to return to Ottawa, which, if the Emergencies Act were to be lifted, would rely on existing authorities.

In downtown Ottawa, there continues to be a small demonstration at the War Museum and a small number of protesters in the secure zone that are being dealt with by police. The geographics of the secure zone and exclusion zone are being reduced and supporting a local business in the secure zone is now considered a valid reason to enter the secure zone. Increased police presence will continue throughout the week and into the weekend, with appropriate resources on hand to support the Ottawa Police Service. s.39

[Redacted]

Across the country, there is chatter about a potential nation-wide event on March 5, 2022 titled “Freedom Chain” that is calling for people to link arms on the TransCanada highway. RCMP is monitoring this chatter.

The number of arrests, charges, vehicles towed and entities frozen remains unchanged from the last update. The RCMP has advised financial institutions to unfreeze the accounts of those frozen and police contacted many of the people who have had their accounts frozen who have indicated that they would not be returning to Ottawa if their accounts will be frozen, s.39

Key Messages for Ministers	PCO	Key Messages for Ministers (February 21, 2022): - For three weeks, blockades illegally disrupted the life of Canadians, harming our economy, and endangering public safety. - We want to thank police officers from all law enforcement agencies who joined the operations and successfully worked on resolving situations across the country and keeping communities safe. - We invoked the Emergencies Act to supplement Provincial and Territorial authorities to address the blockades and occupation to keep Canadians safe, protect people’s jobs, and restore confidence in our institutions. - The Act has strengthened and supported the work by the police. Law enforcement agencies relied on it to set up a secured area in downtown Ottawa, to prevent foreign money from funding illegal blockades, and to make sure our borders remain open. - The Emergencies Act is not something that we undertake lightly and we do not want to use it for a single moment longer than necessary. - We are pleased with the progress that has been made and we are committed to ending this emergency at the earliest opportunity. - Over the past days, we have seen deliberate and professional enforcement action here in Ottawa. There have now been close to 200 arrests, 389 criminal charges laid and a total of 76 vehicles towed. The job is not done yet and work is expected to continue to bring an end to illegal blockades and occupations. - We have also seen progress in implementing finance-related measures under the Emergency Economic Measures Order. Under the powers of the Act, financial Services providers have frozen at least 76 accounts containing approximately $3.2 million. Additionally, FINTRAC’s pre-registration process is ongoing as it responds to several dozen inquiries received from small and medium-sized banks on the impact of the Emergencies Act orders. - We are calling on everyone to not jeopardize public peace or endanger yourselves or others by participating in purposefully illegal activities. There will be consequences for all criminal behavior related to the ongoing situations in Ottawa and across the country. - As the situation is still fragile, we have to remain vigilant and continue to keep each other safe. More than ever, now is the time to work together.

RCMP Background – Law Enforcement Actions under the Economic Emergency Measure Order	RCMP	Law Enforcement Actions under the Economic Emergency Measure Order (Emergencies Act) February 21, 2022 - Over the last three weeks, police services across the country have been responding to unprecedented and unlawful demonstrations, protests, occupations, and acts of civil disobedience. Federal and provincial legislation provides significant authorities and powers to police services to maintain the rule of law, however, the illegal blockades and unlawful protests in Ottawa and across the country have presented unique challenges which have compelled a unique response. - The RCMP echoes policing partners in supporting the fundamental objectives of the invocation of the Emergencies Act, Emergency Measures Regulations and Emergency Economic Measures Order, while still supporting the fundamental rights and freedoms guaranteed to all Canadians. - As the RCMP and law enforcement partners have worked through the operation in Ottawa, we have seen the benefits of the Emergencies Act. Provisions of the Act have granted us the authorities necessary to maintain the perimeter, restrict travel and ensure that we can continue to stop financial support and other assistance for this unlawful protest. - Outside of Ottawa, the most immediate impact of the Emergencies Act has been on public messaging and communication. We believe that the Emergencies Act has been a deterrent for at least some protest groups in how they conduct themselves. The Act has been an additional tool for our Public Liaison Officers who are engaging with groups to seek to minimize disruptions and ensure that protests remain lawful. - The Emergencies Act has also allowed law enforcement and monitoring agencies to work more closely with Canadian financial institutions; enhancing the effectiveness of law enforcement conducting investigations. While it remains the responsibility of the financial institutions to make the decision of freezing accounts, the RCMP is diligently working with our law enforcement and federal partners to disclose relevant information of individuals and companies suspected of involvement in illegal acts. - So far, this effort has culminated in the freezing of 208 financial products; the disclosure of 57 entities; the addresses of 253 Bitcoin shared with virtual currency exchangers; and, the proactive freezing of the account of a payment processor for a value of $3.8M by a financial institution. (*Comment: The numbers included here reflect release timing and have since been updated by RCMP as listed above in the tracker): - We continue to work at collecting relevant information on persons, vehicles and companies, and remain in daily communication with the financial institutions to assist them. - The RCMP is proud of the professional and collaborative response of Canadian police agencies, including the thousands of RCMP employees – from those on the front lines to those supporting behind the scenes – their collective efforts are working to bring a successful resolution to this unprecedented challenge.
